

September 25, 1903

Thomas, W.S.V.
[Carmarthen, Wales]

[It occurs to me that, if my proposal meets with your concurrence, we might enter into a mutually advantageous business arrangement...]

In importing supplies of old English, Roman, + other coinages from dealers here you must necessarily be very much subject to upturn of the prices... Although only an amateur collector, I am very well versed in old English + Roman specimens...]

Bell Vue House, Pensarn, Carmarthen, Eng^l
Sept^r 25th 1903.

Gents

It occurs to me that, if ~~any~~ proposal meets with your concurrence, we might enter into a mutually advantageous business arrangement.

In importing supplies of old English, Roman, & other Coinages from Dealers here you must necessarily be very much subject to option.

of their prices

Although only an Amateur collector I am very well versed in old English & Roman specimens.

Very frequent opportunities present here of buying cheaply small assortments, & single types, from time to time.

What do you say to my undertaking a small purchase Commission on your behalf to some amount to begin with say £2. or £5 - !

You could authorize me to give so much for good, clear specimens of various English & other Regions & denominations, with a higher price to meet opportunity of fine brilliant examples.

I would in any doubtful circumstances submit, before purchasing, to judgment of a thorough Expert here.

My Local Reference is Mr R. A. Brockie, Manager of London & Provincial Bank, Carlisle, who will give you all desirable assurances of my person of standing and stability.

I may add that I am one of the oldest & best known Residents here, that we have been & still are Land Owners in this County to limited extent for generations.

Waiting favour of reply

Yours faithfully,

W S Thomas

P. S.

Enclosed my small package of American Coins, Miss Scott New York assured me they waited & wrote you before finally transferring to Mr. Moore of Boston

Thomas W. L. H.

ms

6

Messrs S. H. & H. Chapman, Numismatists,

1348 Pine St.,

Philadelphia,
United States.